

A New Chapter in Expert Witness Support

London, UK, 20 June 2012

The market for expert witnesses in construction and engineering disputes is about to change. Driver Group are delighted to announce that its existing team of Quantum, Delay, and Technical experts will be transferring to a new specialist brand, DIALES.

The DIALES name is derived from Driver International Arbitration and Litigation Expert Support, but will mark a distinction from the rest of the group. Those in the team will concentrate on expert witness work.

Peter Davison, head of DIALES said: “we have long recognised the importance of having a dedicated expert team. With DIALES we can ensure that the team has an ‘expert’ focus, and only the highest quality staff, to service the high profile international disputes we are involved in. DIALES will undoubtedly deliver the integrity and reliability that expert support requires”. For more details, please visit www.diales.com

For additional information contact:

For further information on the launch of DIALES or comment from our expert team please contact faye.purbrick@driver-group.com

About Driver

Driver Group have been providing construction and engineering focussed services since 1978.

Our expertise supports the delivery of major projects worldwide and bridges the gaps between the construction, legal, and financial sectors. Whether a single consultant or a multi-disciplinary team, Driver have the depth and experience to offer support in the following areas:

Commercial and Contract Services; Corporate Services; Expert Services; Project Services; Strategic Project Management

Driver Group delivers these services through its focussed brands: DIALES; Driver Trett; and Driver Project Services

<http://www.driver-group.com>